BUDGET PREPARED FOR COMING YEAR

Out of Appropriation for Next Year

Washington, Nov. 10.-The new budget for the fisical year ending June 30, 1926, will be the lowest since the

As drafted by Budget Director Lord, It fixes expenditures at $2,980,000,000, exclusive of the postoffice department's expenditures. Comparing estimates on the 1925 expenses the new butter will chop government costs over a half billion dollars.

Treasury officials hope to realize a surplus for the year ending June 30, 1925, of nearly $125,000,000, a hundred million better than was first estimated. The cut in 1925 operating costs and the drastic reduction in enditures for 1926 will pave the way for material cuts in taxes by the Sixty-ninth congress. Secretary Melion has declared that tax reduction depends to a great extent upon the annual surpluses which the government is able to pile up. The 1925 budget would have yielded a $250,000,-000 surplus. President Coolidge asked Director Lord to "make it $108,-000,000," but it was understood at the treasury that officials intend to go well ahead of the Coolidge proposal.

The budget President Coolidge will send to congress next month contemplates ordinary expenditures of $1,700,000,000, interest on the public debt $853,000,000 and redemption of the public debt approximately $450,-

The heavy cuts over the 1925 budget are the ordinary expenses and likewise interest and redemption of the public debt which was reduced nearly $1,000,000,000 this year. In addition to the budget appropriations, which are to be paid from taxes and other government income, will be an expense from $600,000,000 to $700,-000,000 for the postoffice department. The postoffice department practically is self-sustaining and its costs are not treated in the budget.

When the treasury attacked the budget estimates the total contemplated expenditures were about $3,300,000,000. They succeeded in chopping it several hundred million. Since expenditures as a rule, run slightly ahead of appropriations, the total government cost in the 1926 fiscal year, including the postoffice, will be about four billion dollars. Officials pointed out that the budget reduction was made in spite of provision in 1926 for the world war adjusted compensation calling for about $150,000. 000 not figured in the 1925 budget.

Lima, O., Nov. 10-The chill, choppy waters of Indian Lake claimed the lives of three prominent young men of this city, it was learned late last night when the three failed to return to their homes after a duck hunting expedition.

The men, Rodger Boose, 32. W. Pierce Cahill, 42, and Harold Y. Dabold, 21 left Friday for Indian Lake, about 30 miles from here. When last seen they were about a miles and a half from shore with a heavy wind making travelling difficult for their motor boat.

A cottager living along the Turkeyfoot shore reported to the governmont patrol boat that he hed heard cries for help about nine o'clock Saturday night. The operators of the boat immediately put out in the heavy seas on a search but failed to locate the men. It was then thought that they had managed to make shore.

first signs of dawn this morning, seeking to locate the bodies of the three men.

DFFICIAL COUNT OF BALLOTS FAILS TO CHANGE ANY RESULT

Tabulation shows 12,095 votes were cast at the presidential election Tuesday according to officials of the board of election, who completed a two day official canvass of the votes Friday afternoon. This is an increase over the governor election two years ago, it was declared by officials of the board.

Many disputed ballots made the official tabulation of votes long and tedious work, said officials. It is interesting to note that the women in the country, turned out to cast their hallots almost as well as the men, said officials, if the vote in one precinct may be taken as a criterion. In Precinct Seven, in Xenia City, election commissioners tabulated the sex vote, and it was found that approximately 150 men cast their ballots in that precinct to 146

Many people, after going into the election booths to mark the ballots. returned them to officials un-marked, it was said as an instance in the Probate Judge race, out of the almost 12,000 ballots cast, about oneeighth of this number had to be thrown out. Many of these were thrown out because the voter voted for two candida'es for propare judge, when there was only one to elect. presidential ballots were thrown out because voters marked, the circle at the head of each of column, thus voting for all five presidential candidates, and not expressing a choice. Others were thrown out because voters attempted to "scratch" the presidential ticket, picking out electors on different tickets for whom they voted by marking an "X" in front of the name. The presidential ticket, of course, cannot be 'scratched' and must be voted straight.

Approximately 150 persons were affected by the three mill tax levy in one part of the county according to election officials, and 'of this number, only fifteen voted, cleven "No" and but four voting "Yes"

The officials count of the votes did not materially affect the unofficial status of the candidates, it was found. Governor Lonahey's plurality over Harry L. Lavis, in the county, was reduced from 177 to 172 the official count showed. In the presidential race, Davis picked up thirty-six votes, Coolidge had his country vote increased ninty eight his vote increased twenty-nine votes. In the Probate Judge race, the winner S. C. Wright, lost about fifty- four votes, which did not change the final rating. Harvey Elam, incumbent, unopposed for re-election as Clerk of Courts, polled the biggest vote in the county, totaling 8,597 votes. almost 100 more than the un-official count showed. Calvin Coolidge was next with 8,410 votes.

MODISH MITZI-A Glouse Will go to any Length, Mitzi Finds By Jay V. Jay

"But. Mitzi," mildly remonstrated Dad, "how and when can you wear them all? Five blouses on one bill!" Which just goes to show how little Dad knows about the new fashions. Mitzi wears one of the items on the bill. It has a new choker collar and jabot effect. It's finger tip length.

Just to show how different a blouse can be, here you see Mitzi in an ecru lace blouse with a flounce around the bottom. The underslip is of satin and so are the sleeves. This is one of the new tunic blouses. It comes three quarters or seven eighths of the way to the underskirt.

This is one of the new blouses that is knee length. It is knitted silk and the motif embroidered and beaded in very smart colorings. The V neck and the long, tight leeves are to be noticed, of course, It's beltiess and fits rather snugly even to Mitzi's slim form.

Cedarville Coilege football team ran wild against Urbana Junior College, at Urbana, Saturday afternoon, and swamped the Urbanites under a 64 to 0 defeat.

Free from injuries for probably the first time this season, Cedarville presented a strong defense and scored at least one touchdown in every period. Cedarville employed straight fooball tactics throughout the game, and with the backfield and line working in perfect co-ordination, gained at will. Cedarville made thirty first downs to two for Urbana, and these two were made through a desperate pass attack late in the game.

Urbana was unable to make gains through Cedarville's stone wall line, and at no time was able to advance the ball more than four yards in three line plays. The game was called in the fourth quarter with three minutes remaining to play because of darkness, just as Cedarville had begun to run in a long string of substitutes. Donavan, captain of Urbana, was

COOLIDGE GOT SIXTY PER CENT OF THIRTY MILLION VOTES

President Coolidge's popular vote is the greatest in American politics. His policies weer indorsed by almost 2,000,000 more voters than contributed to the Harding landslide in 1920.

Belated returns carrying the Coolidge-Dawes vote to new high marks and rolling up unprecedented pluralities for the Republican electors appeared likely to give him close to 60 per cent of the total vote cast. Of the 30,000,000 Americans who went to the polls, it was indicated that close to 18,000,000 had said it with ballots for the President.

President Harding received 60 per cent of the popular vote in the duel of 1920, shattering a record which had stood since 1872 when General Grant took 58 per cent of the popular vote in his contest with Horace Greely, and bettering that of Lincoln in the campaign of 1864 against General McClellan.

The fact that State after State reported the Coolidge plurality would exceed that given Harding over Cox was interpreted as little short of amazing in view of the pre-election estimates of the LaFollette "Progressive Republican" following in the trans-Mis-issippi States. With working majorities in both Houses of Congress, the popular indorsement given the policies of the President was expected to exert a most salutary influence on legislation at Washington. The belief was only natural that LaFollette, Brookhart and Co., would announce that their "fight for progressivism" would go on, but no Washington observer would accept their pronouncements as being any more than the dying words of another third-party movement in American politics. The Coolidge vote was taken to mean that LaFolletteism had been killed as effectively as Populism, Greenbackism and all the movements of such stripe. With a Congress ready to go along with him for the consummation of the program he revealed in his maiden message to that body in December, 1923, the impressive popular indorsement of conservatism and common sense, the safeguarding of judicial independence and the condemnation of government operation of public utilities, could very well mean, under the Coolidge brand of leadership, a Republican lease of power rivaling that which extended from McKinley to Taft.

GARY'S WORDS WORTHY TO BE WRITTEN IN GOLD

Now for business, new and more business, and continued activity, is the view of the business world.

The sweeping Republican victory in the national election is considered a rebuke to radicalism. The latter's platform, especially as relating to the railroads and the United States Supreme Court, was considered destructive not only to capital but to labor. The business world believes that most citizens of the United States looked upon President Coolidge and the tariff as necessary to a continuance of improved business conditions.

"Oh! how clear and beautiful your complexion is today, my dear!"

THERE is a certain joy-a certain pride—in knowing you are admired, whether it be from father, brother, husband or sweetheart! And back of that joy is the satisfaction of knowing all is well.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps, wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness which is not theirs. But why the wondering — the hoping — the praying for that craved for attractiveness-that clear skin-that beautiveness—that clear skin—that beauty. A clear skin—is the barometer of one's condition. A healthy skin radiates beauty. Pure, clean blood means a clear skin.

S.S.S. is waiting to help you. It will rid your blood of its impurities and give you that clear complexion. Since 1826 S.S.S. has been ridding people of blood impurities, from pimples, from blackheads, boils, eczema and from rheumatism, too. Stops Coughs Quickly

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops en-tirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup,

FIVE ARE SLIGHTLY INJURED WHEN AUTO HITS IRON BRIDGE

A Ford touring car, occupied by two girls and three boys, whose names were not learned, crashed headlong into an iron bridge near Alpha, about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, smashing the machine. The occupants were not seriously injured. The machine was being driven west on the Dayton-Xe...a pike at a high rate of speed, it is said, and supposedly blinded by the ead lights of an approaching car, hit the left arc of the bridge squarely throwing the car to the other side of the road, capsizing it, and denting the iron bridge. All were residents of Dayton and one of the boys, giving the name of Frost, was brought to the offices of Dr. A. D. DeHaven of this city, to have a slight scalp wound treated. The others in the part were slightly cut by flying glass but although somewhat bruised, were not seriously injured.

Sheriff Morris Sharp was notified of the accident, and Swigart Bros., garage men removed the battere machine to the local garage.

The machine was said to have been rented in Dayton, and was being driven back to that city when the accident occurred.

COST OF WAR IS TOLD IN SUNDAY SERMON

lars of the nations taxes are used to pay for wars and war establishments," declared the Rev. F. W. Stanton, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Sunday evening, in speaking on "World Peace the Jesus

"The taxpayers of the United States are now paying the rate of ten million dollars a day to pay for past wars and present armaments," he said. "This amount includes the money paid for the upkeep of veterans' relief and pensions. This indicates that if a burden of taxation is placed on the people, it is caused by the maintenance of excessive armaments."

The Rev. Mr. Stanton made a plea for world peace through the righteousness of Jesus Christ.

TURKEY SUPPLY NOT SO SHORT SAY XENIA DEALERS SATURDAY

Xenia poultry dealers have not joined the ranks of "calamity howlers" who have broadcast the bad news of higher and scacer turkeys for the Thanks giving season. Although local dealars have not begun to handle the piece de resistance for November 27 and have received no quotations on the price, they do not feel that a shortage will be suffered or that the price will be much above last years. The wet spring season which inter ered with the place of turkey raisers has caused a shortage and resultant high price, according to other city dealers. Although no definite price has been quoted the approximate amount has been placed at 75 cents pound dressed, and fifty cents on foot, as compared with a price last year of forty-five and fifty alive and sixty five cents dressed.

According to Springfield dealers, it is possible to procure Western or Kentucky stock this year about five to ten cents a pound cheaper than Ohio gobblers, but because of the fact that the foreign stock is of an inferior grade, dealers hesitate in handling the birds.

The cranberry crop this year has been described as a bit shorter than that of last year, prevailing prices being about the same as in 1923.

Father of Physical Culture

Primitive nations can dispense with physical training-schools as the creatures of the wilderness discity-dwellers need a substitute for the lost opportunities of outdoor exercise. Mental culture and gymnastics should be as inseparable as body and soul. "It is impossible to repress luxury by legislation," says Solon in Lucien's "Dialogues of Anacharsis." but its influence may be counteracted by athletic games, which invigorate the body and give a martial character to the amusement of our young men."

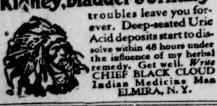

And that remedial use of gymnastics requires the supervision of an expert teacher. It is not enough to provide an assortment of training-school apparatus and trust visitors to use it to good advantage. We might as well establish a free public drug-store and invite patients to come in and help themselves. I have seen athletics on the Let Alone plan tried in a city park, and remember the results in the case of novices who got discouraged the first day by disfiguring accidents, and of others who contracted dyspepsia by exercising directly after dinner.

A well-developed system of physical culture offers remedies for almost every disorder of the human organism, and for all but the most hopeless malformations.

a preliminary, gymnasium pupils should be advised to postpone the principal meal of the day (call it supper or dinner) to the late afternoon, and at least half an hour after the conclusion of their exercises.

Violent muscular efforts can exhaust the vital vigor of the organism to a degree which—for a short time-may take away the appetite, and make it advisable to defer repletion for a little while; but even a direct rush from the gymnasium to the dining room would be hygienically preferable to the opposite mistake. After dinner rest is recommended. After being nursed, a fretful child will fall asleep; the physiological reason can be found in the fact that exercise interferes with digestion, and obliges the stomach to retain an accumulation of ingesta till there is a risk of their undergoing a process of fermentation and becoming a positive danger to the

The Truant Soul

By Victor Rousseau

Joan had had supper with Lancasthe fight was raging.

She had sat on the veranda with him, had talked with him, had seen the better soul of the man rise to the surface as he struggled with the morphine devil; then she had given him his half dose again, and, as his strength revived and the agony departed, she had seen the facile, lying

She was fighting for Lancaster, fighting for the better Lancaster again, and he was writhing in torment and pleading with her to go, to leave him to his fate, since the suffering was intolerable and subjection preferable.

There was an hour of hideous battle, but somehow she managed to keep him quiet till midnight. And, seated beside him, watching him, Joan came to the conclusion that this was one of those strange cases of double personality of which she had read in medical books. It was impossible to reconcile this Lancaster in any way with the man whom she had seen momentarily at the hospital, and with the tyrant of the operating room. For that man was essentially base and ignoble, and this man was honor and truth, when the morphine flend retired, baffled for a space, and under the clearness of the man's soul and its integrity. Somehow she held his devil at hay until midnight, and then, with a second victory to his credit, he stretched out his arm for the hypodermic. Then Joan saw the look of contentment come into his face, heard the satisfied sigh-and there was the old Lancaster before her, shifty, furtive and false. No, not altogether, for something of that victory remained with him, the promise of renewed manhood; the morphine devil was losing its grip. Ground had been won. It should never'be ceded. Joan swore that as she watched by the bedside. "Doctor Lancaster, you have promised me to sleep till six," she said.

"Can I trust you?" "How can you doubt my word, Miss Wentworth?" asked Lancaster, with an affectation of surprise. "Of course you can. You know, I am not a regular user of drugs. I have been overworked, and I took morphine to make me sleep, and somehow it got hold of me. I think I must be unusually susceptible to the drug.

The old lie of the stupid drug devil! ter, and it was night, and once more But Joan had the storeroom key, and she knew that it would require a hammer or ax to break down the strong door. And she would wake and hear him, and fight again as she had fought that morning.

"Then I am going to bed till six,"

"But, Miss Wentworth," he protested, "six hours is an impossibly long period. Every three hours is my time, and now that I am on half-doses-you remember what Jenkins said this morning. You must go slowly with a confirmed drug-user like myself.

"Stop! Don't listen to me!" he added suddenly. "You can trust me, Miss Wentworth. I'm going to fight this out, and win."

"You are winning," answered Joan, bending over him. "Don't forget that, Say 'I am winning' whenever the pain seems uncontrollable and your will seems gone. It won't last long. Doctor Lancaster, you are your own self at this moment, and nothing can harm you. Fight the good fight!"

He caught her hand and carried it to his lips. "Miss Wentworth, you are my good angel!" he cried. "I secured the services of an angel unawares," he added, looking at her with that pathetic humor which went straight to her heart. "I want to win for your sake. But why are you taking so much trouble for a worthless old fellow like me?"

"Don't flatter yourself that it is all for you, Doctor Lancaster. Perhaps I may want to save the most distinguished surgeon in the South."

"I don't think you have," answered Joan. "You have none in this room,
